

CMS INTEROPERABILITY RULE
Documentation for Third-party App Developers
Wellmark Advantage Health Plan

The Interoperability and Patient Access final rule requires CMS-regulated payers to implement and maintain a secure, standards-based Patient Access Application Programming Interface (API) that enables patients to access their health information through a third-party application of their choice.

Wellmark Advantage Health Plan is required to comply with the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) Interoperability and Patient Access Final Rule and is using Innovaccer as a partner to support these API connections with third-party applications.

In order to enable API connections, third-party developers must register their app with Innovaccer's developer portal to make the app available for use by NextBlue of North Dakota members.
